

December 2021

What's on the Dashboard?

Video Library and Ordering Literature Available on Dashboard

Have you ever been prepping for a meeting with a potential client and wished you had resources that would help sell a pre-engineered metal building? We know having a solid presentation can be extremely helpful to you and your team when securing a bid. That's why we've placed many videos showing the benefits of our products and metal buildings on the Builder Dashboard, available at your convenience. There is also the option to order printed literature and brochures from the Dashboard.

The video library comprises many videos created to share and highlight a variety of topics, including The Marketing Portal, Virtual Reality Technology, and ShakeoutPro, to name a few. Besides presenting to potential clients, these videos can be resources for training your new team members about pre-engineered metal buildings and Kirby Building Systems.

On the Builder Dashboard, under Resources, you can order printed literature and have it shipped to you, at no charge.

These options and many more resources are all available on the Builder Dashboard.